Innovative Snap-on TSS H-D Equipment Featured at TMC

Conway, AR – Feb. 18, 2025 – Snap-on[®] Total Shop Solutions (TSS[™]) will showcase an extensive lineup of heavy-duty and fleet equipment at the 2025 Technology and Maintenance Council (TMC) Annual Meeting and Transportation Technology Exhibition, taking place March 10-13 at the Music City Center[®] in Nashville, Tennessee.

"Snap-on Total Shop Solutions offers some of the most powerful and efficient heavy-duty equipment solutions on the market today," said Mariana Montovaneli, director of marketing for Snap-on Equipment. "TMC is the perfect venue to showcase our latest cutting-edge innovations tailored for heavy-duty and fleet applications. We invite all attendees to visit us and experience these advanced solutions firsthand."

Heavy-duty mobile column lifts from Challenger Lifts will be featured at booth 417, where TMC attendees can see how the versatile CLHM-140 lift strikes the perfect balance between strength and maneuverability, making it an excellent choice for any solid surface, indoors or outdoors.

Booth 516 will highlight the JOSAM[®] Cam-aligner, a versatile alignment system ideal for shops that want to increase profits through fast truck alignments, whether in the shop or on the road.

At booth 419, attendees can explore the new [Pro-Cut[™] X1](#) heavy-duty on-truck brake lathe. This innovative product enhances efficiency, reduces labor time and maximizes profitability through brake disc resurfacing.

The Hofmann[®] [geodyna[®] 980L](#) heavy-duty wheel balancer will be on display at booth 518. This high-performance system is designed to accommodate shops of various sizes, helping technicians accurately and quickly balance wheels with an intuitive interface and raised digital display.

Additionally, two more TSS brands, Mitchell1[™] and Nexiq Technologies[®], will showcase their heavy-duty solutions at booths 423 and 522, respectively.
